Burglars Busy in Princeton Last Week; 10 Homes Entered in Borough, Township

It was a busy time for burglars in Princeton last week. Five homes in the Borough were entered, including two on Hodge Road; five more in the Township; three dormitory rooms on the Princeton University campus and a store in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Two entries, which Chief Michael Carnevale said were very possioly connected, occurred on Humbert Street and Hodge. A home on Humbert was entered between 11:30 Monday night and 6:30 Tuesday morning through a ground-floor kitchen window at the rear of the house while the occupants were asleep.

Taken from the dining room area was silverware valued at approximately $5,000 plus a wallet of one of the occupants containing $80. The wallet was found later in the morning on Hamilton Avenue and turned into the police, who returned it to the owner, minus the money. Police said the victims never heard anything.

When the owners of a Hodge Road home returned home at 12:10 Tuesday morning, they apparently surprised burglars. A police investigation revealed that a screen had been removed to enter a ground-floor window and a television set, VCR and cable TV box had been placed outside the window. Stacked in close proximity to the window inside the home were items including a computer keyboard and several silver pieces. The intruders managed to escape with a $300 VCR.

A ladder was removed from a garage last week to reach an unlocked, bedroom window of another Hodge Road

Sigmund Vetoes New Ordinance Allowing University To Proceed with Renovation of Dinky Station Area

For the first time in anyone's memory, a Borough mayor has vetoed an ordinance passed by Council. In her last official act before leaving for Colmar, France, on Sunday, Mayor Barbara Sigmund hand-wrote an 11-page message vetoing a portion of Ordinance 87-7, which permits Princeton University to proceed with renovation of the Dinky station and parking lot.

The mayor approved those paragraphs dealing with the creation and regulation of a parking yard adjacent to the Dinky station. But she refused to sign other paragraphs relating to the creation of loading and taxi zones on the station side of University Place, which are part of a proposed "bay" to be constructed by the University in the Borough's right-of-way. These zones would face in only one direction: away from Alexander Street and toward the University Store and Nassau Street.

"I believe," wrote the mayor, "that by approval of these sections of the ordinance, I will knowingly and willfully sanction a hazardous traffic situation at the Dinky Station area."

She expressed concern regarding these one-way zones, particularly as they combine with the University's circulation plan that permits only entrance from University Place into the new lot (cars may exit only at the other end of the lot, onto Alexander Street).

"This," said the mayor, "will engender an overwhelming if not irresistible temptation for the driver of a car coming south on University Place, carrying a Dinky-bound passenger, either to stop in the middle of the street and let the passenger out to bound across the street against traffic to make a dash for the Dinky across the 65-foot plaza, or to pull into the bay against traffic and in violation of the taxi and loading zones parallel to the bay's curb.

"The University's best-laid plans that all cars coming south on University Place wishing to drop off passengers at the Dinky just enter the for Sections I and II of its Princeton Ridge development proposal from the Planning Board last week, and final approval for the first 10 single family lots near Arreton Road.

Shadow Oaks Three won

The request for preliminary approval of Section III, the 28 single-family lots south of Ridgeview and north of Bouvant Drive which were of particular concern to neighbors, was withdrawn by the developer. Instead, a new site plan will be presented for this section which uses an internal road system and eliminates all driveways onto Ridgeview Road.

The Planning Board voted unanimously to amend the concept plan attached to the settlement agreement to reflect this new layout. The vote for preliminary and final approval, with a number of conditions, was also unanimous.

The conditions include a back-up plan for storm water management if the regional detention basin that is proposed on the Arcaro tract does not become a reality, as well as successful percolation tests for interim on-site septic systems for all 10 lots in section I. These lots will be connected to the North Ridge sewer system, when it is completed, as will the rest of the 89-unit development.

It was agreed that the issue of whether the roads should be 18 or 22 feet wide, which is the Township standard, will be worked out by a special committee, including representatives of emergency fire and ambulance services.

Arreton Road will be connected to the new development and will dead-end at the top of the hill off Route 206 where bollards will be placed that can be knocked down by emergency vehicles and snow plows. The developer will pay the estimated $10,000 cost to install the bollards and to reconfigure and landscape part of Arreton from Route 206 to give a clearer visual indication that it does not continue at that point. A turn-around will be provided, possibly on the Princeton Ridge property, so that cars do not turn into drive-

New Lawrenceville Headmaster to Be Installed Saturday

Lawrenceville School will install its new headmaster, Josiah Bunting III, on Saturday.

Approximately 3,000 guests are expected to attend the ceremonies in Lavino Field House, starting at 11:30 with an academic process that will include delegates from 130 universities, colleges and schools. John N. Irwin II, former ambassador to France and former Under Secretary of State, will speak, as will Shelby Cullom Davis, former ambassador to Switzerland. Both are Lawrenceville alumni.

About 3,000 guests are expected to attend the ceremonies, including the entire student body, faculty and board of trustees, many parents, and about 1,000 alumni. Bert A. Getz, president of the board of trustees will officiate at the installation of Mr. Bunting as the school's ninth headmaster. A luncheon reception will follow the ceremonies.

As part of a two-day celebration surrounding the installation, Lawrenceville has scheduled a symposium on "The Independent Boarding School: Its Aims and Responsibilities." The symposium will take place Friday at 2 in the Kirby Arts Center. Mr. Bunting will serve as moderator, and John T. Casteen III, president of the University of Connecticut, will give the keynote address.

Panelists will include David W. Hicks, headmaster, St. Mark's School, Dallas, Tex.; Elaine W. Betts, headmistress, Dana Hall School, Wellesley, Mass.; Caroline H. Persell, professor of sociology, New York University; Philip Jordan Jr., president of Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio; Peter W. Cookson Jr., visiting associate professor, Manhattan College,

New York City; and Wade C. Stephens, director of studies at Lawrenceville. Dr. Persell and Dr. Cookson are authors of the book Preparing for Power: America's Elite Boarding Schools.

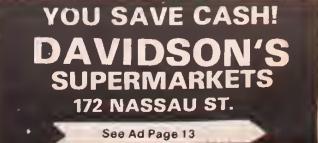

Mr. Bunting takes office as Lawrenceville enters its first year of coeducation with the admission of 175 girls in September. A native of Philadelphia who grew up in Pennsylvania and Connecticut, he was graduated from the Salisbury School in 1957 and earned a B. A. in English from the Virginia Military Institute. From 1963 to 1966 he was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford, where he read modern history and earned an M.A.

parking lot, proceed to the opposite side, drop off passengers at the staircase leading from the parking lot to the train platform, and then continue to the far end of the lot to exit and double back up Alexander Street, will be foiled all too often," asserted the mayor.

Noting that Council had passed the ordinance with the proviso that it be reviewed in 12 months, the mayor wrote, "I do not wish to take that risk."

The 65-foot plaza referred to in the mayor's veto message will extend out from the station onto University Place; the loading and taxi zones will be placed in its bay. The University cannot proceed with building this plaza (which will be more like a large sidewalk until a later date when the University hopes to improve it and install plantings) without the Borough's permission to encroach on its right of way. It is this permission that the mayor is withholding.

At various points in the plaza, some 40-, 25-, and 12-foot widths are part of the Borough's right of way. The veto will not affect the work the University has already hegun in renovating the parking lot at the Dinky.

In her veto, Mayor Sigmund requests the University either to reconfigure its plans to allow exit from as well as entrance to the parking lot from University Place in order to induce cars dropping off passengers to utilize the parking lot dropoff system in a more efficient and speedy manner, or to reconfigure its plans for the bay to make it deeper, with an interior island or a "curb-in" parking system, so as to approximate the present drop-off system at the Dinky.

Commenting on the mayor's move. Eugene McPartland, vice president for facilities at Princeton University, noted that the plans in question had been reviewed locally and approved by the Planning Board and Borough Council.

He added that the University had hoped to complete the Dinky plaza and parking lot by July, but that this completion date is now uncertain.

A lengthy discussion had preceded the approval of the ordinance at last week's Borough Council meeting. Abbot Low Moffat, chairman of the Borough's Traffic and Transportation Committee, said the University seemed primarily interested in getting a plaza in front of the railroad tracks and in getting nice parking for people using the Dinky. "They forget they are serving a railroad station, and the circulation of traffic must be such that such service is available."

Representatives of the University noted several times during the session that drivers could cut down College Road and thus position themselves to be headed in the right direction for dropping off passengers at the Dinky.

Mr. McPartland expressed his concern that it was a shift in rules to talk about a change in the hasic layout. The mayor responded that it had been the University's choice to go to the Planning Board before taking its plans to Borough Council.

"Ilad I known, I would have asked them to go to the Borough first," she said. "I resent being put in a box and told that it's last-minute and not discussable; it's perfectly proper to discuss this."

At the Tuesday, May 12, meeting of Borough Council, Council will decide whether to override the mayor's veto. Four votes are necessary for an override.

whether the board has any jurisdiction to not allow the developer to use Arreton Road as construction access as neighbors requested. James Unger of Shadow Oaks Three told the board that plants making blacktop close in November, giving the company four or five months at best to complete the long access road from Cherry Hill Road. Working both ends would insure getting it done, he said.

There was discussion of the walking paths, also called jogging trails, that are shown throughout the development. These cleared but unpaved paths were agreed to by the developer at the urging of the Township and Planning Board negotiating team and consultants in arriving at the settlement agreement, but neighbors asked that they be removed, on the grounds that they were a safety hazard.

Planning Board Vice Chairman Margen Penick remarked that retaining or acquiring passive open space with paths for walking had long been a community goal. "It would be a shame if the Township starts giving up this open space principle," Mrs. Penick said.

She acknowledged that paths running right behind neighbors houses, where would-be burglars might lurk, are a legitimate cause for concern, but asked that the developer calculate the cost of those particular stretches of path and agree to put the same dollar amount of trails someplace else on the 225-acre tract.

This led to a discussion of the very large area of open space north of Ridgeview Road which the Master Plan Committee would like to see added to the Township open space. Planning Director Duggan Kimball said that the environmental constraints were more severe on the north face of the ridge, but that it could become part of a permanent green belt or gateway to that side of Princeton. He also said that a system of paths could be designed which would address the neighbors'

Mr. Unger was agreeable to dedicating the large lot west of Cherry Valley Road as public open space, but not the smaller area behind the townhouse development. He said dedicating this area should be at the option of the homeowners' association.

It was also agreed that the location of the trails be fixed by a subcommittee and that the developer would provide the full linear amount of paths as agreed in the settlement agreement concept plan. Two tennis courts will be provided, because the Township cluster ordinance requires active as well as passive recreation opportunities, although some Planning Board members like the dea of the developer paying the equivalent to the Recreation Department.

It has been Mr. Giardino's position, reiterated last week by his attorney, Thomas Jamieson, that he is willing to comply with any and all regulations required in the normal permitting process but that wetlands are the jurisdiction of federal authorities, not local.

Permit Is Possible. Mr. Bryan countered that although the Corps of Engineers cannot vary in its use of standards to determine wetlands, it may still issue a permit to alter or develop wetland, based on public opinion. "A sharp developer will use a zoning board decision to leverage a permit" from the Corps, he said.

Asked if this had been documented, he said "no," but was based on his experience with Corps in his previous post in Rhode Island, Mr. Bryan also maintained that the Township's ordinance requires an applicant to provide informa-tion about critical areas and that this application was incomplete because wetlands information was not included.

Although Mr. Giardino's consultant had said the previous week that wetlands were not present on this site or neighboring properties, Mr. Bryan said it was his "feeling" that there are wetlands on the site. Town-ship Engineer Robert V. Kiser also reported that county soil conservation personnel had visited the site in the intervening week and based on vegetation, hydrology and some probing of the ground had said that "at least a portion of the site would be classified as wetlands.

Asked what would be the harm if the Corps did grant a permit even in the face of wetlands, Mr. Bryan spoke of the loss of wildlife habitat and water quality, among other factors. "The loss of five acres of wetlands may seem insignificant, but it is the cumulative loss of so many five acres," he said

Tree Removal Delayed

"The warblers beat the bureaucrats!

That is how James Amon, director of the D&R Canal Commission characterized a decision to delay removal of trees that were killed when a gas pipeline was damaged and caught fire in January of 1986. Some 1,200 to 1,500 trees were badly charred in the spectacular blaze off West Drive. The area is near the Charles Rogers Wildlife Refuge, which is on the "flyway" as a favorite stopping place for migratory birds, especially warblers.

"There was no reason for a fire to start in that area," said Chicf Michael Carnevale this week. Fire Chief Kenneth Rendall III believes that youths playing with matches may have caused the fire, after firemen found debris including matches, paper and heer eans in the rear.

No one was injured in the blaze that filled the area with smoke and forced the closing of the busy intersection of Nassau and Witherspoon Streets. Fueled by asphalt shingles and clapboard siding, the fire spread up the side of the building at 14 Witherspoon Street, eausing an estimated $2,000 in damage.

Firemen were on the scene almost immediately after a general alarm was sounded at 6:25. The blaze was extinguished in 15 minutes by some 45 firemen from Princeton, Lawreneeville and Princeton Junetion companies.

There was some smoke damage inside the Tempting Tiger and to two apartments above. Tenants of the apartments were allowed to return inside the huilding later that evening. The interior of the Army-Navy building was not affected, police said, because it has a brick wall siding.

Initially, a pedestrian saw flames and alerted Ptl. William Nathan who was in the area. Sgt. Donald Dawson also saw smoke at the same time and the two officers immediately put in a call for a general alarm.

Oven Fire. One truck and eight firemen from Engine Company No.1 responded to an oven fire Thursday evening in a Jefferson Road home,

Police said that flames erupted in a broiler oven when grease caught fire, filling the interior with a large volume of smoke. Firemen vented the home with fans and police reported no other damage.

Land Acquisition Hearing

There will be a public meeting and "adminis-trative hearing" Tuesday at 2:30 in the Valley Road building meeting room in connection with Princeton Township's application for Greenacres funds for three separate properties. The properties in question are a two-acre swath of the Mountain Lakes property which will complete public access around the lake. Estimated at $550,000, this does not include the house and remaining four acres which the Township is also being urged to acquire. Because of Greenacres restric tions, the Township is not asking for funds from this source for the house and four acres.

Another property which the Township would like to acquire is the 52 acres known as the Poe property which forms part of the Woodfield Reservation. The Township presently has rights to use the property but does not own it outright It is valued at $2.2 million.

The third property in question is a five-acre tract which sticks into Autumn Hill Reservation and is known as the Larsen tract. Its value has been estimated at $137,500. The total for all three properties comes to

Seven-Eleven May Open On Witherspoon Street

Seven-Eleven, which has been seeking an appropriate Princeton location for years, looks like it has found one.

The convenience store chain hopes to open in the Griggs Corner Amoco site on Witherspoon Street, across from the Public Lihrary, Approval for the move has been received from the chain's Dallas headquarters.

Seven-Eleven executives are currently in the process of completing lease negotiations for the huilding that houses the gas station as well as the hlacktopped area where the gas pumps are now

According to Robert Schiers, public relations manager for the company's Mid-Atlantic division in Willow Grove, Pa., the gas station building will be redesigned to fit in with the surrounding Palmer Square architecture. The gas pump area would be used for parking.

Kite Day Scheduled At Terhune Orchards

Terhune Orchards will hold its annual Kite Day Saturday and Sunday, May 16 and 17 from 10 to 5 each day, rain or shine.

Pam and Gary Mount, owners of Terhune Orchards, think springtime in the orchards is one of the most beautiful seasons of the year and invite the community to join them in a variety of farm and country activities to celebrate. Everyone is encouraged to bring a kite, to make or buy one at the farm and fly them in the 10-acre pasture. "This may be the only chance many people will ever have to fly a kite out with the sheep, goats, geese and all our farm animals," Mr. Mount remarked.

Farm animals include Henrietta the donkey, Teddy the pony, the new lambs, chickens and roosters, the geese and ducks. There will be Pony rides, jumping into hay mounds, making scare crows and inspecting fossils are some of the activities during the day. Barbecued chicken, hot dogs, cider and donuts, apples and apple pies will be served up for lunch and snacks. Participants may walk through the orchards and gardens, or join a tour led hy Mr. or Mrs. Mount.

Kathy Pierce, a New Jersey storyteller, will tell folk and country tales Saturday from 12:30 to 1:30. Buddy the Clown and lan Coats and his band Coats and Tales will entertain both days.

Admission is $1, and children under three are admitted free. Parking is at the farm. For directions call 924-2310.

Seniors Invited To Join Walking Program

The Senior Resource Center and the Recreation Department are planning a new walking program for senior citizens. Called PASERS - Princeton Area Seniors Exercising Regularly — the program will be held at the Princeton Shopping Center.

The kick-off will be on Saturday, May 16, at 10:30 underneath the big clock. Seniors are invited to come to the kick-off to learn more about PASERS and how to stay healthy.

New Requiem Mass Set For Concert at Trinity

John Rutter's new Requiem Mass, published last year, will have one of its first performances in New Jersey on Sunday at 9 p.m. in Trinity Church, as the first half of the Trinity-All Saints' Spring Concert.

Mr. Rutter is a prominent British composer of choral music. His settings of Christmas carols have become famous through recordings by the Choir of King's College, Cambridge, England.

The new Requiem Mass, scored for chorus and orchestra, uses not only the traditional liturgical requiem texts in Latin, but also excerpts in English from the Psalms and the Anglican prayer book. It will be sung by the Adult and Girls' Choirs of Trinity Church and All Saints' Church, under the direction of Lois Laverty, Director of Music at All Saints' Church. The concertmaster will be Joseph Kovacs.

The second half of the program will be a performance of Faure's Requiem in the new edition by John Rutter. The Faure Requiem, composed in 1887, is one of the most popular and frequently performed choral works in this century.

It will be sung by the Choir of Men, Boys and Girls of Trinity Church, under the direction of John Bertalot, Trinity's Director of Music. The baritone soloist will be Leon Williams, a senior at Westminster Choir College, and winner of several voice competitions.

Tickets at $5 ($3 for students with ID) are available at H. Gross & Co., One Palmer Square, and at the Trinity parish office, 33 Mercer Street. Tickets will also be available at the door on May 10.

Former Hostage to Speak At Princeton Seminary

The Rev. Benjamin Weir, moderator of the Presbyterian Church, USA and former hostage in Lebanon, will speak in an open forum at Princeton Theological Seminary on Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the main lounge of the Mackay Campus Center.

Mr. Weir was a Presbyterian missionary in Beirut, Lebanon, for 32 years before he was captured by Shiite Moslem extremists in May 1984. He was held hostage for 16 months, 14 of which were in solitary confinement. On September 14, 1985, he was released and returned to the USA.

Celebration Will Mark Independence of Israel

A celebration of Israel's 39th year of independence will be held Sunday beginning at 11:30 at the Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street. The program will feature a "Passport to Israel" tour offered by the youth groups of Young Judaea.

The guest performer will be

Yoel Sharabi, a noted Israeli performer who has appeared at Avery Fisher Hall and El Avram in New York, as well as on various college campuses. Performing with a three-piece musical accompaniment, Mr. Sharabi will offer songs, music and dance in a cabaret setting, which will include an Israeli lunch and dessert.

Admission is $7 for adults, $5 for seniors, and $3 for children up to 12 years of age. Tables may be formed for groups of eight, 10 and 12. For further information call the Jewish Center at 921-0100

Installation on Sunday At Christ Congregation

DOGWOOD DRIVE

Dogwoods galore and more! In the rolling countryside of Montgomery Township about 8 miles north of Princeton, flowering trees and shrubs are skillfully combined with nature's woodland to create 5 acres of incredible beauty. A delightful gazebo adds charm. Approached by a winding circular driveway, the handsome house is a traditional Colonial with a difference. A unique entryway adds interest to its classic lines: Inviting foyer, spacious living room, formal dining room, large kitchen with breakfast area with sliding doors to deck, family room with brick fireplace, bedroom/study, full bath and laundry on first floor. Master bedroom, bath with jacuzzi, three bedrooms and hall bath on second. Finished basement. $485,000

Kingston - a name, as in Princeton, which reminds us of the days when the English named their colonies for royalty. Some of the old Colonials remain but there are now many more houses of contemporary design. This brick front ranch, approached by a tree lined lane, offers modern conveniences in a rural setting: Living room, dining room, four bedrooms and bath. In-ground pool with pool house. $239,000

LAFAYETTE ROAD WEST

Spectacular — by definition — most unusual and exciting, as is the dramatic living room in this handsome Contemporary house in Princeton's western section. A complete circle with skylights in the domed ceiling and a curve of glass (overlooking beautiful grounds and a Sylvan pool) leave an arc of wall space to display one's treasured paintings. The kitchendining room is made elegant by the generous use of marble on counter tops and floor. A second living room offers informal living space. The luxurious master suite has a spacious sitting room in addition to the master bedroom and both "his" and "her" baths. Three childrens' bedrooms share a bath and there is a powder room off the front hall. Built by a Princeton architect for his own use, the rugged materials make this exceptional house almost indestructible.

MANOR DRIVE

When does a townhouse seem not to be a townhouse? When it is the end unit of a small group on a quiet wooded cul-de-sac! With most of the advantages of a single house and without many of its chores, this exceptional new townhouse just north of Princeton in Montgomery Township offers the amenities for gracious living. Many windows and two sliding doors to the large deck create bright light filled rooms and make them seem even more spacious. Entry, study, large living-dining room with fireplace and greenhouse window, modern kitchen with breakfast area and powder room on first floor. Master bedroom and bath, two bedrooms and hall bath on second. Tennis courts. $220,000

WEST SHORE DRIVE

Picture a delightful family room - in winter, with a cheerful fire and skylights bringing in the stars and in summer welcoming the sun, with French doors opening to a spacious deck overlooking a picturesque woodland and a stream. Now you know one of the appealing features of this attractive one floor house in Elm Ridge Park. Also included: hall, living room, dining room, kitchen with charming windowed breakfast area, four bedrooms, two and one-half baths.

STUART ROAD

Soft tones of brown and a distinctive contemporary design make the exterior of this unique house in Princeton Township of special interest. The delightful interior more than fulfills the expectation. The delightful interior more than fulfills the expectation. The inviting entry opens to a dramatic living-dining room with cathedral ceiling, attractive fireplace and a soaring glass wall bringing in the southern sun and a spectacular view of picturesque boulders, evergreens, flowering shrubs and a brook. The kitchen is superb with sunny dining area. The guest room and bath are luxur ous as is the hall powder room. The sitting room of the also luxurious master suite could be a third bedroom and there is a loft/study. A separate entrance opens to a spacious and gracious apartment with living room, kitchen, bedroom, bath and loft/study.

NEW FROM OUR PENNINGTON OFFICE

NEW IN HOPEWELL BOROUGH ... a stately and majestic authentic Queen Anne Victorian with wrap-around porch on three sides, stained glass windows, bay windows, balcony off master bedroom, tower studio room, 2 corner fireplaces, newer kitchen with island, 9 foot ceilings, 5 plus bedrooms, 2½ baths - brick terrace - WOWI $328,000

NEW IN HOPEWELL TOWNSHIP ... A lovely cape with lots of charm. The living room has fireplace and built-in bookcases; there is separate dining room, kitchen, family room, laundry room, bedroom and bath on the first floor. Upstairs 3 additional bedrooms and another bath. An in-ground pool (20x40), fenced yard and more. $210,000

NEW IN LAWRENCEVILLE ... In better than new condition, this two-year old colonial in "The Ridings" has a professionally landscaped corner lot and so many upgrades that it is a better value than a brand new model. Living room, dining room, kitchen, family room with fireplace, screened porch, 2-car garage.

Simply great. $312,000

NEW IN MONTGOMERY ... This country contemporary, built of cedar and brick, has its own private park-like setting. Custom built for original owners, it has Andersen windows, wood shingle roof, exposed beams, random width oak floors, atrium doors, brick walled fireplace — 16'x32' pool, 4/5 bedrooms, 2½ baths. $345,000

LOVELY DUTCH COLONIAL ... so well cared for with large bright rooms and high ceilings ... living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen, pantry, sun room, master bedroom with window seat, 2 other bedrooms, 1½ baths, plus wonderful cedar panelled room on the third floor. Full basement with playroom, 1-car garage — all this on a wonderful street in the Hillcrest area of Trenton.

Great value at $138,000

NEW FROM OUR PRINCETON OFFICE

Offered at $359,000

NEW IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP ... DRIVE DOWN A TREE LINED STREET TO THIS COZY CAPE ... located in one of Princeton's most desirable neighborhoods, this 3 bedroom residence has entry hall with closet, living room with fireplace and a door leading to screened porch, separate dining room with corner cupboard and kitchen. The beautiful rear yard with its stately red maple and other fine plantings is another feature of what just may be "your dream house" ... Offered at $270,000

VERY SPECIAL IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP ... We wouldn't dare call this a Tudor contemporary, but you will discover that it is both. The entrance hall leads to a sunny living room with fireplace and on through to a kind of hideaway study. There's an ample formal dining room and a perfectly delightful glass walled informal living area. The kitchen is really a "two-room complex" and there are 3 main bedrooms plus an entirely separate suite with sleeping area, living area, kitchen (separate entrance). The pretty fenced yard contains a modern filtered swimming pool. All this is offered at $400,000

NEW IN ELM RIDGE PARK, HOPEWELL ... a classic 1½ story cape that will captivate you. The entrance hall opens to charming living room with fireplace and built-in bookshelves and cabinets. The separate dining room is perfect for entertaining and you will be absolutely delighted with the completely new kitchen with its hand pegged hardwood floor and all amenities. There is second fireplace in family room which also has built-in bookshelves and adjoining sun room. 4 bedrooms, 3 baths and outside a lovely large deck and all weather tennis court. $395,000

PRINCETON LANDMARK ON STONY BROOK

A contemporary home in a unique setting. From the extensive windows and wrap-around deck on the South side, this home provides a marvelous opportunity to observe the usual wildlife that abounds along the brook and in the woods as well as the occasional crane or heron. Historic Trenton-Princeton trolley pilings stretch across the brook and provide an excellent place to sit and fish for trout or ponder the great questions of life. Located on over 11 acres and built less than 10 years ago, the design of the house is as refreshing and interesting as is the setting. Four bedrooms, lots of skylights, fireplace, and cathedral ceilings are but a few of its features.

Sean Kerr's Warm and Likable "Mary, Mary" Now on Stage at the Princeton Arts Council

The Pennington Players have brought Jean Kerr's comedy Mary, Mary, to the stage of the Princeton Arts Council at 102 Witherspoon Street, where it can be seen over the next two weekends. After watching this five-character play, it is not hard to see why it delighted Broadway audiences in the early 1960's and enjoyed a phenomenal run of more than 1,500 performances.

Mary, Mary concerns a marriage that has broken up, an intended marriage that never comes off, a potential love affair that blossoms in one evening and cools off the next day—disputes and cross-purposes aplenty. But the people, with all their faults, are so likable, and the wit is so warming, and the unlikely happy ending is so foreseeable that one can mainly sit back and enjoy.

Bob McKellaway is a 36-yearold book publisher. He and Mary have been divorced for nine months. Apparently his habits of being overly serious, self-analytical, and generally square got on her nerves; and her custom of saying exactly what was on her mind and joking through his seriousness brought on the explosion. Now, on the eve of his re-marriage to a young fiancee, Tiffany Richards, he has called in his lawyer friend, Oscar Nelson, to review his precarious financial situation. For help in sorting $5,000 worth of canceled checks for possible deductions, Oscar has insisted on inviting Bob's former wife for a business ses-

Bob is not pleased. "Don't you leave me alone with her for one minute, do you hear?" he tells Oscar. The giveaway line! What might happen if they are left alone together?

A second-act complication arises after Dirk Winston, a movie actor friend of Bob with a book manuscript to sell, has met Mary and taken her out to dinner. Warmed by champagne and Dirk's persistent admiration — the kind she never got from Bob — Mary is ready to be compromised.

Act Three sails on to the inevitable conclusion, following a very funny discussion involving all five characters, plus a bit of fate when Bob takes three sleeping pills thinking they are vitamin pills.

Gift for Dialogue. Jean Kerr has a lively sense of humor and a happy gift for dialogue. Only occasionally is the wit belabored. "Being divorced," Mary tells Oscar, "is like being hit by a Mack truck. If you live through it, you start looking very carefully to the right and to the left." Most of the humor is more spontaneous.

The director, Tony Smith, has opted to change the locale of the play from New York to a perhaps more familiar setting. Local references such as "a taxi on Nassau Street," "PJ's," "Epstein's," "the Arts Council building" are good for an occasional chuckle and don't really hurt the play.

I read Mary, Mary before I saw it. While succumbing to its general charm, I couldn't help feeling that the situation was somewhat contrived. Could all this really take place in less than 24 hours — a fiancee voluntarily giving back her engagement ring; an affair ready to begin even up to the packed suitcase but called off at the last moment; a solidly divorced couple just as solidly reconciled? I'll leave it to the actors, I decided, to try to con-

For the most part, they almost do. There remains a little of the fairy-tale quality - this is the way you'd like it to end, and so it does. A few key scenes help to make it seem possible: the natural laughter of Bob and Mary as they recall some of the misadventures brought to mind by the canceled checks; Bob's discomfort when Mary, befuddled by champagne and memories of Dirk, actually does cry; the lovely scene when Bob, in the living room, telephones Mary in the bedroom, so he can talk to her without intruding; and Bob's near-panic at being alone with Mary in her cute orange nightshirt.

Well-Paced. Tony Smith's direction is generally well paced. Among the actors, I was especially taken with Kathy Garofano as Mary. Clear and decisive, she is attractive in all of Mary's different moods. One can guess that her voice, when so intended, could get under Bob's skin, but taken all in all one can see why he wants her back.

Rip Pellaton's playing of Bob is intelligent and free from the stiffness which sometimes marked his early work. His commanding stature is almost a handicap, as it makes it hard to visualize his self-abasement before he again asserts himself at the end.

Gretchen Felix's Tiffany is just the right foil to Mary. Tall

Huge Children's Choir To Perform in Chapel

Westminster Choir College is sponsoring a Festival of Singing Children Saturday, at the Princeton University Chapel.

More than 800 children from church choirs throughout New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania will be led by conductor Helen Kemp. Beginning with rchearsals at 10, the Festival will culminate with a 3 p.m. service for the public performed by the massed choirs with organ, harp, brass, tympani and other instruments.

Geared for children in grades four through six, the Festival includes the singing of 11 anthems. Works by Allen Pote, Sue Ellen Page, and John Horman have been commissioned for the event. The children have heen learning the works with their home choirs for nearly one year. All of the music must be memorized for the Festival.

Mrs. Kemp, a former member of the Westminster Choir College faculty, regularly conducts children's choir festivals throughout the United States. The Princeton event, the last of which was held in 1983, is the Standout Scenes. As can be expected, some of the rolls of the dice lead to funnier scenes than others. Act One boasts three standouts. In "Darien Avenue." Triangle spoofs the American Dream. "We'll be Unique," the song that accompanies this scene, is somewhat unique in this poorly miked show in that the lyrics are decipherable.

My favorite number occurs two rolls later, an hilarious takeoff on Gilbert and Sullivan called "Three Little MBA's." It is superbly performed by three diminutive women dressed in embroidered silk shifts, blackframed eyeglasses, and Oriental wigs. I unfortunately couldn't catch all the clever lyrics - a repeat would have been welcome — but one coup-let went, "...who made the grade. We even know how to inside-trade."

Also extremely funny was the I.R.S. office, crowded with eight identically clad, funnylooking women with black huns, washed-out cardigans, women cackle, stamp papers, gossip, and make filing taxes a nightmare for whoever tries to

Other stops on the board include St. Jane's Place, a spoof on a revival meeting ("praise forward to finding out. eash!"); Free Parking, with a rousing country hootenanny number; and The Electric Company and Skid Road ("Lifestyles of the Poor and Insignificant"), both of which take TV shows as their targets. Waterworks leads to a somewhat long and soapy Ziegfieldtype dance number, while

Celebrate the Light Gallery's reopening

MC

Princeton's natural light source the Light Gallery is celebrating their "light-switch". Come see the results; a spacious new showroom and still convenient location, in the Princeton Shopping Center, Princeton.

The new Light Gallery has more rooms, more displays, more lamps, lighting fixtures and shades. Come in and shop more easily for all your lighting needs. Even more reason to celebrate—all lighting fixtures in stock are on sale Monday May 4 thru Sunday May 10 only.

> All track and recessed lighting fixtures are 35% off.

All Lightolier decorative fixtures are 25-30% off.

All other lighting fixtures are 30-50% off.

Come celebrate the Light Gallery's "light-switch" and shop for more at the new Light Gallery.

Artistic & Unusual Pieces Featured at Ari Jewelry

"I have been in the jeweiry business just about all my life, comments Ahuva Arie, "My grandfather was a silversmith in Israel, and now there are three generations of the family in the jewelry business. It gives a real sense of tradition." The owner of Ari Jewelry, the brand-new shop at 15 Witherspoon Street, is looking forward to a long association with Princeton customers. "I've been living in this area for 16 years, and I like Princeton a lot," she says. "The people here appreciate quality in everything. They don't go for the glitzy and showy pieces you see in New York. They are more understated in their taste.

"This is my first shop," she continues. "I wanted to be on my own, to express my taste and offer a variety of jewelry, both modern and antique.

"Also," she adds, "everyone has been so encouraging. We're getting referrals - word-ofmouth is very helpful. You can't beat contented and happy customers. I feel very op-

"I carry a range of tradtional pieces of pure filigree, which copies the old style hut reproduces it in a modern way," she continues. "Also, we have a handcrafted silver bead necklace from Israel that is unique in the way it is put together. A modern artist has kept the traditional spirit but in a modern way. This one can be worn either with a silver chain or cornelian beads, for example. Some others have small perfume bottles with little silver balls decorating them.'

Silver in Fashion, Mrs. Arie notes that silver has become very popular iately, and she specializes in silver and carries a smail line of gold as well. "People have really been changing from gold to silver," she reports. "Fashion helps promote this, too, with an emphasis on certain colors in ciothing.'

The old as well as the new is available at Ari Jeweiry, and the shop carries antiqued jewelry from the late 1800's. Even older is a severalhundred-year-old necklace from Israel, with sections of fiiigree in an artistic design, incorporating semi-precious stones, such as coral and tur-

A very special piece is "a 200-year-old archaeologicai find," she remarks. "It is Roman glass that has been found in archaeological sites in Israei. It is incorporated into pendants and pins, either in a modern setting with a little ruby to enhance it or in a traditional setting. An explanation of its history comes with it."

Mrs. Arie adds that she carries a large selection of elat stone from the family of malachite. "It is a bluish-green stone mined in southern Israel and it creates a very pleasing color."

Earrings, necklaces, pins, rings and bracelets have all been very popular, she observes, and a variety of styles and prices is available in all categories. There are the very colorful Raffles earrings made of handcrafted Japanese paper: handpainted silk earrings by Kyle, a young artist from California; and very stylized earrings, also by an artist from California, "which are very artistic. They are not just hoops, for instance, because a special touch, a subtle difference has been given to each one.

The earrings are predominately pierced, but the shop also carries a stock of clip ear-

Complete Decorating Center At E. Windsor Floor Covering

"We are really a home decorating center," reports Schlessinger, ad. ministrative assistant at East Windsor Floor Covering, located in the Super Fresh Mall, Routes 130 and 571 in East Winsdor. "This is a complete decorating service, with wallpaper and window treatments, as well as floor coverings. I'm trained in decorating, and we have a qualified professional staff glad to assist customers and attend to anyone's decorating needs.

A family-run operation, East Windsor Floor Covering was originally established in the 1940s by Al Block. A second store opened in the Jamesway Shopping Center in 1972 and moved to its present East Windsor location 3½ years ago. It is owned by Al's sons Bruce and Michael Block, while another son, Marvin, owns the Lakewood Store.

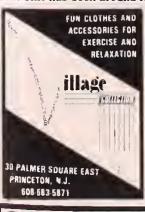

"We started as installers," notes Michael Block. "Then the business grew, but we are still an installation house. In fact, we are the only floor covering store in the area that has its own installers.'

A rapidly growing region has helped create booming sales, and Mrs. Schlessinger says that customers come from all over the area. "People often ask a lot of questions and want advice. They really seem to enjoy themselves when they come in. Sometimes they even bring the whole family and it's not unusual for them to come with sketches. As we like to say, it can be your design or ours, and you are only limited by your imagination.

"Also," she continues, "we can help coordinate the total picture. Sometimes, people will come in for carpet, but then they'll see wallpaper that is apinger. The emphasis is still on carpeting, however, and 65% of the store's sales are wall-to-wall carpet.

'We carry the most famous brands of carpet, and we are the exclusive area dealer of Karastan carpets. We also have Downs, Philadelphia, Queens, Galaxy, Salem, Mohawk, Cabin Craft and Col-Saxony style, a plush piece of carpeting that lends itself to a traditional home and is very luxurious. Woods Rediscovered, "Wood is a big seller, too, throughout the house," she adds, "and especially there is a trend toward wood in the kitchen. The beauty of natural wood has been rediscovered. We carry wood from such major distributors as Bruce, Hardco, Harris-Tarkette and Anderson.'

Linoleum continues to be popular for kitchen and bathroom, and a myriad of patterns is available from Armstrong and Mannington. Congoleum is also available in many designs.

East Windsor Floor Covering prides itself on the skill and expertise of its installers, whose talent also extends to customdesign area rugs. "Custom design is a very important part of what we do," explains Mrs.

One Man's Solution for Improving Quality of Life in Princeton Borough

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I- Princeton Borough going to the dogs? Many of us long-time residents think so. Week by week we see our quality of life in decline.

We see ruthless developers transforming our town into a yuppie shopping mall. We see our favorite shops forced out one after another, to be replaced by trendy boutiques catering to outsiders.

We see our traffic snarled by endless bridge and road repairs, and near-permanent gridlock on Nassau Street from the mounting influx of invading automobiles. Worst of all, we see street crime, graffiti, and vandalism, ominous signs of social decay. The quiet community we love seems doomed, and we feel helpless to halt the relentless onslaught of developers and automobiles.

Are we really helpless? Perhaps one solution is staring us in the face. We have a way to keep invading cars out of the Borough: our crumbling bridges and our pothole-strewn roads. Why fix them and make our traffic problems worse? Let's be bold, and turn misfortune into opportunity

Let's urge our local authorities to legally condemn all the roads and bridges leading in to the Borough. We'll put up barricades and "road closed" signs at the Borough frontiers, and then set up checkpoints. We'll restrict automobile entry to Borough and Township residents, who will then be given identifying windshield stickers.

Commercial pick-up and delivery will be permitted of course. Other non-residents will have to leave their cars in designated lots on the Borough perimeter, and then walk, cycle or ride the Dinky to town.

Visitors will be welcome, certainly, but welcome on our terms instead of theirs. The university has used a similar approach for years to control cars on the campus. Let's learn from their success.

Imagine Nassau Street restored to its former serenity - maybe we can even bring ed of all but the most intrepid out-of-town shoppers, the trendy boutiques will soon disappear. In their place will arise (wondrous to tell) produce marts, butcher shops. bakeries, hardware stores, and so forth. True, the transition back to a local economy will cause some temporary hardships, but it will

As the big developers quit town in disgust, local entrepreneurs will move in to fill the gap. Within a few years, Princeton will have become once again a quiet university town, a peaceful island of academics in the midst of a sea of shopping malls.

Now you may be thinking that all this is an mobiles that threaten our way of life.

impossible fantasy. You may be thinking that the state and the county bureaucrats will never let us get away with blocking off "their" roads and bridges. They certainly will raise a fuss. But we can outwit the bureaucrats by turning their own tactics against them. For example, consider how long it takes to get a bridge fixed around here. even when the town is doing its best to pressure the state and the county. If the town chose to stall instead, repairs could be held up for many years (remember Westway?). So stall we will — we'll change bridge designs frequently and capriciously, we'll call for endless environmental studies, and we'll invoke the letter of every obscure regulation. In short, we'll use controversy, delay and paperwork to wear the bureaucrats down. With a little ingenuity and determination, we can hold them off for several years, by which time the closing of Princeton Borough to nonresident automobiles will have become an accomplished fact. Sooner or later, the state and the county will tire of the struggle, and decide to leave those feisty Princetonians alone. We will have won! More important, we will have taken back control of our town from the commercial interests and the invading auto-the Princeton community are feeling less and less safe on the streets. I'm not talking about the deplorable problem that is facing the university right now or the specific problems of university women.

I'm talking about women like me who live here and would like to be able to jog along the canal towpath in the middle of the day, or to go to a meeting at night, or to walk through a parking lot downtown in the of afternoon. The police don't suggest anything useful, so let me suggest something useful.

Years ago, when I lived in Hyde Park, at that time a highcrime area in Chicago, one of the local banks sponsored what was called the Whistle Stop eampaign. You bought a metal police whistle at the bank at cost (50 eents then). The whistle eame with a hrochure explaining what to do with it.

The routine was this: if you were attacked, or felt threatened, or saw somebody threatened, you blew the whistle. If you heard a whistle, you moved in the direction of the whistle you heard, blowing your whistle all the time.

The commotion usually scared the assailant away. It was amazing how well this little plan worked. Of eourse there was a program of community education - posters, school visits. Everybody in Hyde Park understood what the whistles were for; kids weren't allowed to play with whistles, for instance. Crime in Hyde Park went down.

I, myself, thank goodness, never had to use my whistle, hut there were many stories of handbags not grabbed, or attackers frightened away, of threats dealt with in a nonviolent manner. Women were no longer totally unable to call for help in places where people were not absolutely nearby. It was a great plan. Can we do it

How About Enforcing Some Borough Laws?

To the Editor, Town Topics: Last December, the Borough's beleaguered pedestrians were pleased to read in these pages that both skateboards and bicycles were henceforth banned on eertain downtown Borough sidewalks. At last!

A week ago, during a brisk walk from Bank Street down to Davidson's and back, I eounted 16 sidewalk eyelists, all of them ap-parently practicing for the next Tour de France, and 26 skateboarders, many of them neophytes, all zigzagging at high speed on the lumpy, under-repairs sidewalks of Nassau Street. Meanwhile, dozens of immobile cars, endangering no one and committing no sin greater than that of being next to an expired parking meter, were heing zealously ticketed.

During the same walk I saw six unleashed dogs with no owners in sight, and enough litter to fill a large dumptruek. The almost comical proliferation of downtown trash receptacles does not appear to have diminished the mess on doorsteps and sidewalks -only stiff, on-the-spot fines for littering will do that.

It is obviously impossible to enforce all ordinances all the time; however, daily life in the Bornugh, and especially on Nassau Street, would be more agreeable if all ordinances were enforced sometimes. An ordinanee which is never enforced might as well not exist in the forced to grant easements through private property, to note the trueulently dishonest behavior of local government in this matter, as exemplified in the letter to the Princeton Sewer Operating Committee (and its sequel) below:

At your regular meeting of 11 December 1985, when the "public" was finally allowed to break silence, I referred to a letter you had recently sent to grantors of sewer easements, and to a paragraph therein your right to destroy anything (whether tree, shrub or tennis court) which you considered an obstruction within the ease-

Reading a relevant paragraph from our own easement deed, I pointed out that, to the eontrary, there are explicit strictures upon the conduct of the S.O.C., not the land-owner. I then asked the S.O.C. to put out a follow-up, corrective letter, so that grantors will not be tieularly those who have been grossly deceived as to their land-use rights.

Thereupon J.B. Smith launched into one of his yelling sprees, with such vehemence at thoughtful discussion of the matter could not be had. I was then asked, and did agree, to present the matter to the S.O.C. in written form. This is it. I enclose copy of your letter, and of p.3 of our easement deed

Your Letter: "Aeeording to the rules and regulations of the P.S.O.C., all sanitary sewer easements are to remain free of any obstructions and growths that would hinder movement within the easement.'

The Deed: "Upon the completion of any use as aforesaid, said lands shall be restored to their condition as of the date hereof insofar as such use will reasonably permit, by and at the cost and expense of the party of the second part."

To articulate his landscape plans, an owner elects to plant on an easement a young, slowgrowing, expensive sapling, say, a Japanese maple, worth $500 in 10 years. Your letter threatens him with destruction at ony time, without compensation. (And, in fact, if your conduct here is in keeping with the S.O.C.'s arrogant habit over the last 40 years, you will destroy it, if you choose, and clandestinely, giving the owner neither advance notice of your intent nor subsequent notice of your

The deed (the only controlling legal instrument here) requires that no act of yours shall even damage this tree — unless it becomes ineseapably essential; in which case it is your responsibility to discuss the entire matter in odvonce with the owner, to a mutually satisfac-tory settlement, including even tree replacement at your expense, or whatever other compensation satisfies the owner.

The subject before you is no mcre trifle. Who can say how many land-owners' plans for enjoyment of their properties have been frustrated by your mendacious misrepresentations? Here's the story of one of the most amazing games ever played in big league baseball ... It happened on May 2, 1917 when pitchers Fred Toney of the Reds and Hippo Vaughn of the Cubs EACH nitched a nohitter AGAINST EACH OTHER"... At the end of nine innings NEITHER team had a run or a hit! .. The Reds finally scored in the 10th to win but that game stands as the only nine-inning double no-hitter in major league history.

The best news of the day, however, was Harvard's 3-1, 3sweep of Yale, giving the Tigers the title. The champs will close out the season with a home game against Long Island University, then await a possible bid to the NCAA tournament

Can You Believe It? The long-suffering men's lacrosse squad enjoyed its first successful week of the season, helping to alleviate the pain of the previous week's 13-2 annihilation at the hands of Cornell. Midfielder Dave Kopp scored three goals and goalie John Wright turned in a stellar performance Thursday as the Tigers bested Villanova, 6-4.

The laxmen then posted their first Ivy League win of the year at home on Saturday, coming from behind to edge alsowinless Dartmouth, 10-9. Princeton spotted the Big Green an early 5-1 lead, but narrowed the deficit to 5-3 at the half. The Tiger surge continued after intermission, as the hosts pulled into a 7-7 deadlock in the fourth quarter.

Attacker John Kenney's fourth goal broke the tie with 9:23 to play, and Andy Macaleer and Tom Woelper added insurance goals for 10-7. Dartmouth came back with two late scores, but the Tigers held on for the win.

Woelper and Kopp cach had a pair of goals in the game, while Wright turned away 14 shots. The club ends its season Saturday with a home game against Adelphi.

Impressive Win for PH5. If Beacham sounds confident about his team's chances against Steinert, who can blame him. Saturday night, PHS knocked off unbeaten Shawnee, 11-4, in a night game at Vincentown. The Renegades had entered the game with a 12-0 mark and were ranked second in the state by the Newark Star Ledger.

PHS entered the game with a 5-7 mark and it looked like Shawnee would make PHS its 13th victim when it scored three runs in the first off starter Dave Rohinson. After a single, Beacham ordered Shawnee's cleanup batter walked, only to have the No.5 batter hit the ball out of the park. "So much for making a manager look good,'

"A nightmare" is the way Faus summed up the loss to Voorhees two days earlier. On three separate occasions in the game, a Hun player had been caught using a stick shorter than the required 40-inch length.

After it happened the first time in the first half, Faus told his players to doublecheck the length of their sticks. In the fourth period, however, with the scored tied at 2, two more Hun players were caught with short sticks, each infraction drawing a three-minute, unreleasable penalty. Voorhees went on to score five times with Hun a man down.

"It's a coach's prerogative to check a stick but it's unusual to do it three times," observed Faus. "Obviously, it hurt us. Both of these games could have gone either way.'

With the twin setbacks, Hun slipped to 2-5 on the season.

PDS Baseball Loses 2, Record Drops to 5-3

For the first time this season, the Princeton Day baseball team has lost two consecutive games. The Panthers dropped decisions to Pennington and Newark Academy last week, and now own a 5-3 mark.

They hoped to break that pattern this past Tuesday when they were scheduled to play Dwight-Englewood at home in the first round of the Prep B tournament. The game was postponed from Monday. Two road games follow, the first Wednesday against Peddie, the second Friday against Neumann Prep.

The loss to Pennington hurt the most. Riding on the careful pitching of sophomore Carlos Sagebien, the Panthers owned a 2-0 shutout after five innings. Sagebien had given up just four hits, walked none and struck out three. He had pitched particularly well each time the Raiders got a man on.

His teammates had staked Sagebien to a run in the third when Matt Lustig drove in Lucas with a double to right field The Bluc and White added another in the fifth when Rich Schragger walked, stole Somewhere along the season, PDS was due for a letdown, and it came last Wednesday against Montclair-Kimberley. The Blue and White was lucky to escape with a victory in this one.

It took a goal by senior Lisa Lavinson with just 40 seconds remaining to pull out a 13-12 triumph last Wednesday. That tally was one of four scored by Lavinson on the afternoon.

Other goals were scored by Becca Royal, three; Mauren Cahill, two; and Suzy Dwyer, Elisa DeRochi, Robin Cook and Kirsten Alexander, one apiece. The teams were tied at 5-5 at the end of the first half, and PDS never could pull away to a comfortable lead in the second. Every time it scored, the home team answered with one of its own. Scotty King, one of the team's top players, could not play, and that may have been a contributing factor, but coach Kim Bedesem had other thoughts.

"We played horribly," she commented. "I don't think we were mentally prepared, but that was a good experience for us. I hope we learn something from the game.'

Back on their own turf Friday, the Panthers showed they had, beating Chatham, a better team than MKA, 16-11. After allowing the visitors an opening goal, PDS pulled ahead, 2-1, but never got more than two goals ahead in the first half. Chatham was just a goal behind, 7-6, at the intermission.

The teams began the second half trading goals, but a pair by Royal gave PDS a three-goal advantage, 13-10. Chatham made it 13-11, but Lavinson, Dwyer and Royal scored after that for a much more relaxed ending. Others scoring included, DeRochi, Cook, and Hillary

A 3-2 loss to Friends Academy followed by a 5-0 shutout of crosse team left the Panthers Rutgers Prep has left the with a 7-0-1 mark, pending the Princeton Day tennis team with a 7-3 mark, heading into the Mercer County Tournament this Wednesday. (Monday's rain washed out the match against Lawrenceville).

The criteria used for seeding in the county event does not favor the Panthers. Although, they have lost only to topseeded Princeton High among the entrants, they are seeded fifth. The Blue and White were scheduled to meet Pennington in a first round match at home this past Tuesday, and if victorious would play Wednesday at Mercer County Park. Coach Rome Campbell expects his team to reach the semi-finals where it will have another crack at the Little Tigers this Thursday.

Friends Academy, located on Long Island, handed PDS its third loss of the season, playing on indoor courts. As usual Reed Newhall and Jivan Datta blew through their singles opponents, losing only four games between them, but PDS could not manage another win.

George Dodds and Scott Newhall had the best chance, winning a first set tiebreaker, but lost the next two, 6-1, 6-3. Dave Golden at third singles and Marc Collins and Dave Ragsdale at first doubles both lost in two sets.

The following Friday afternoon against Rutgers Prep, everybody breezed to two-set triumphs, losing no more than three games in the process. The weather has not been kind to

PDS Boys' Lacrosse Gets 2nd Win against Peddie

It's been a season of few victories for the Princeton Day boys' lacrosse team, but the two the Panthers have recorded have shown the progress they have made.

Last Saturday, the Blue and White nipped Peddie, 5-4, and their play was much better than against Rutgers Prep when they won 7-1.

"We played our offense, and the boys are seeing that it commented Jan works,' Maslack. This will give them more confidence in the future. I'm really happy for them."

The score does not indicate how much PDS was in control through four periods of play. It took a 1-0 lead in the first period on a goal by Elias Abud, and the visitors never caught up.

Jeff Zawadsky made it 2-0 in the second period on a pass from Abud, and after Peddie had tallied, Peter Axelrod scored to give PDS its two-goal margin back. The teams traded goals in both periods of the second half.

Zawadsky got his second in the third period, assisted by Delon Mollett. In the fourth Jon Bylin provided the winning tally off a pass from Jamie Knill.

Maslack was pleased with both the Panthers' offense and defense. He liked the fact his offense took 33 shots. "They are getting up there to where I'd 35 to 40 a game.

He also cited the excellent play of sophomore goalie Brit second half.

'We called a time out, dis- female. cussed what we had to do, and the boys responded," said Maslack.

Clocking in at 26 minutes 18 seconds, Jeff Merkowitz won the five-mile Hilltop Road Race last Sunday. Cindy Clark was the top female finisher, with a time of 33:11:4.

There were 127 entrants in this year's race, which benefits development of Hilltop Park across from Princeton Community Village on Bunn Drive. The youngest participant was nine-month old Jennifer Tarr, who was pushed into the race by her parents, Chris and Susan Tarr. Jennifer jounced along in a specially-designed stroller with oversize wheels that is made for racing parents who don't want to leave baby at home. This bit of baggage may have slowed down the Tarrs, who clocked in at 50 minutes.

The youngest runner was 10year-old Steven George who finished at 48:26:5. Of special interest to onlookers was the fact that Dr. Charles Clark and his bride of one day, the former Cynthia Bienkowitz, had postponed their honeymoon to run the race.
